

20400

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT NO. 508
County of Cook and State of Illinois

RECEIVED & PLACED ON FILE
JAN 8 - 1998

STUDENTS, FACULTY AND STAFF ACCOMPLISHMENTS
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS

that on September 16, 1997, Kay McSpadden, Ph.D., Professor of Communications was appointed to serve on the National Screening Committee for the Fulbright-Hays Scholarship program; and is recognized by the Institute of International Education as a specialist and authority in her field; and as a member of this prestigious Committee, Dr. McSpadden will review approximately 100 applications for the 1998-99 Fulbright-Hays Scholarship competition.

that Michael Raleigh, Communications Instructor, has written the novel, The Riverview Murders, a detective mystery published by St. Martin's Press, New York which is the fifth in Mr. Raleigh's series about a fictional, Chicago based private investigator; and that other works in the series are Death in Uptown, A Body in Belmont Harbor, The Maxwell Street Blues, and Killer on Argyle Street; and that Mr. Raleigh has conducted several public readings and autograph sessions at area book sellers and at Truman College.

that on December 11, 1997, Truman College faculty and staff contributed to a holiday gift drive by donating toys and clothing for Chicago families; and that nearly 200 gifts were generously provided by faculty and staff; which were presented to the Salvation Army family shelter located at 4800 N. Marine Drive, Chicago.

that, during the autumn 1997, Truman students, faculty and staff participated for the second year in the "Coats for Chicago" drive, in announcing the drive, NBC-5 featured Truman College students during the early evening news broadcast on October 8, 1997 and interview Norma Diaz, President of the Student Government Association at Truman College.

Respectfully submitted,

Ronald J. Temple
Chancellor

January 8, 1998