ACTIVITIES & EVENTS
OLIVE-HARVEY COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS

that Olive-Harvey College celebrated Hispanic Heritage Month, October 5-9, 1998 with a variety of festive events. A week-long Cultural Art Exhibit in the Main Foyer featured works from various Hispanic countries including the Phillipines, El Salvador, Chile and many others. These activities also included a Film Festival, Pinata Workshop/Sale, and a Danza-Folkloric Dance performance.

that Olive-Harvey College hosted the Chicago Metropolitan Coalition of Black Churches "Y2K Workforce 2000 Computer Training Conference" on Saturday, September 26, 1998. The afternoon conference was designed to inform individuals about training and job opportunities in the computer field. Noted Journalist, Tony Brown, host of Public Broadcast Systems (PBS) long standing public affairs program "Tony Brown Journal" spoke to over one thousand individuals on the impending computer problems for the year 2000 and the need for COBOL programmers.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
