REPORTS

that on August 18, 1998, 14 staff (representing each of the Colleges in the District) attended a Technology Transfer session conducted by Wright College Workforce Training Center staff to share the best practices of the award-winning Bank Teller and Beyond Training Program; and that the session covered topics such as competency based curriculum, training costs and staffing, working with the bank partners, IETC voucher process, job placement and support services; and that due to job demand by the banking industry, two colleges are anticipating fall start ups of their bank teller programs. Wright College is committed to sharing and replicating successful occupation training programs within our system.
