that Daley College has been selected as one of two Illinois Community Colleges to receive the ICCB Excellence Award for 2001; and that this award specifically recognizes the college's partnership with Gage Park High School and the Associated Equipment Distributors Foundation which provided a career directed program at the high school, operated as part of the City Colleges' outreach to the Chicago Public Schools through the Excel Initiative; and that outcomes for the first cohort of students in this program include an 84% graduation rate, 32 students completing a year of college at Daley College while still in high school, 14 of the students placing with the top 20 students in the graduating class, and 6 of the students named among the top 100 high school graduates in the nation.
