ART PROFESSOR HAS WORK AT MOCA
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that Grazing at Shendi, a 202-piece steel installation sculpture created by Truman College art professor Amir Nour, is on display at Chicago's Museum of Contemporary Art as part of an exhibition traveling the world; and that "The Short Century: Independence and Liberation Movements in Africa, 1945-1994, is an exhibition of historical and contemporary works of art, music, film, literature, photography, theater, architecture and graphics that has been shown at venues in Europe and Africa; and that on June 12, Grazing at Shendi headlined the opening of the new French American Center for the Arts in June in Paris, a ceremony attended by Mayor Richard M. Daley and his wife, Maggie, who head the center's honorary committee; and that Professor Nour's work is on display in private and public collections all over the world, including the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, DC.
