WEB-ENHANCED CLASSES SET NEW EDUCATIONAL STANDARDS
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

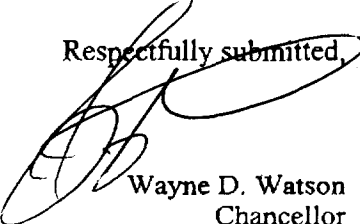

REPORTS that in the 2002 fall semester, all Truman College faculty will be using Blackboard as a standard teaching component; and that to facilitate this, every credit class listed in SPAS will automatically be given a Blackboard component so that all instructors have to do is simply upload their course material; and that Blackboard is an on-line curriculum development tool that allows instructors to make course documents, information, assignments and objectives available over the Internet; and that more than 20 Truman College faculty members are already expert in the use of Blackboard and will serve to train and support their colleagues.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
