DYNAMIC WEB APPLICATIONS IMPROVE INTERNAL COMMUNICATIONS
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that Truman College has vastly improved its internal communications processes through the use of computer databases; and that using databases, faculty, staff and administrators can now process room reservations and work orders online; and that this makes for easier and more accurate reporting of damage and requests for cleanup, ensuring that orders are routed directly to those responsible for carrying them out; and that the room reservation component allows users not only to request a specific room, but to request specific equipment for that room; and that both processes allow the college to track its use of space and gauge more accurately where work is being done and how resources might be used more efficiently.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
