Kennedy-King College
Youth Workers Graduate from Illinois First Certification Program

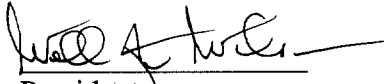

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS: that 32 men and women graduated from the premier Youth Development Practitioner Certification Program on July 17, 2002 at Kennedy-King College. The program is the result of a ~~unique~~ partnership between Chicago Area Project (CAP), the Chicago Department of Human Services (CDHS) and Kennedy-King College.

that the program is the first program in Illinois, and one of the first in the United States, that provides certification for community organization staff who work directly with youth. The program was implemented through the Kennedy-King College Department of Continuing Education and was coordinated in association with the following individuals: David E. Whittaker, CAP Executive Director, Renae Ogletree, CDHS Youth Services Division, Michael Heathfield, CAP Coordinator of Training Services, Ngoan Le, CDHS Managing, Deputy Commissioner, Clyde Khalil El-Amin, Kennedy-King College Vice President for Academic Affairs, and Mark T. Clancy, Kennedy-King College Interim Dean, Continuing Education.
