

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT 508
County of Cook and State of Illinois

AUTHORS OF THE PACT MAKE PRESENTATION
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that the three physicians who wrote the best-selling book, The Pact, visited Truman College March 14; and that Drs. Sampson Davis, George Jenkins and Rameck Hunt spoke to more than 200 students and parents enrolled in the college's GEAR-UP (Gaining Early Awareness and Readiness for Undergraduate Programs) program, a federal program designed to increase the chance that more students from low-income households will go to college; and that the doctors themselves didn't see college as an option until they accidentally stumbled into a recruiting seminar when all three were in high school in New Jersey; and that they set their sights on medical school and made a pact to help each other achieve their goal.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor

April 3, 2003