National Institutes of Health Presentation
Olive-Harvey College

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that students Darrius Hammond and Jason Helm, along with Professor Gide Colinet [Department of Chemistry], made a presentation at the National Institutes of Health – Midwest Regional Bridges Conference in Oakbrook, IL on October 3, 2003.

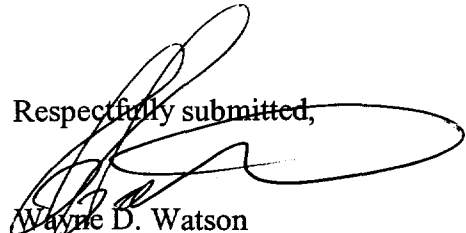

That their presentation on Isolation and Characterization of the Hypotensive Agents in Prunus Occidentalis was an astounding success. There were over 500 participants from Midwest colleges and universities throughout the United States.

That Professor Colinet, and students Darrius Hammond and Jason Helm are to be applauded for their fine representation of Olive-Harvey College and the City Colleges of Chicago.

Craig S. Washington
President

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
