WRIGHT COLLEGE
HOSTS MINI INFORMATION HEALTH FAIR

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that Wright College hosted a mini information health fair that the Humboldt Park Vocational Center first semester Practical Nurses students presented to our students, faculty, and staff on Thursday, December 1, 2005. The 49 daytime students offered information from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., which generated much excitement, interest, and information. The 33 evening students duplicated the event at our campus from 4:00p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Both groups provided current information on hypertension, diabetes, mental health, sexually transmitted diseases, prostate cancer, breast cancer, and lung cancer. LPN students wore their uniforms, engaged everyone one-on-one with the information on their focused topic, and distributed brochures, fliers, and other handouts. It was so successful that the African American Heritage Committee is inviting HPVEC LPNs to return in February to focus more specifically on illnesses African Americans need to overcome.

Respectfully Submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
