Richard J. Daley College

THE CHANCELLOR

that Richard J. Daley College hosted the Hoy Diversity Job Fair on March 19, 2008. The fair was attended by more than 1300 participants and attracted over 40 business organizations from the Chicago land area with positions available in a wide array of industries including: Accounting, Healthcare, Real Estate, Banking, Education and more.

that Hoy Newspaper is Chicago's only Daily Spanish-Language Newspaper. Hoy's average daily issue reach is 183,900. Their mission is to provide Hispanics with engaging, entertaining news and information to help them build successful lives, serve as their advocate, and provide a link to their culture. Hoy is committed fully to the Hispanic community, both national and in the markets we serve. Hoy Newspaper plans to have a series of three Diversity Job Fairs at Daley College during the 2008 calendar year. (March 19, June 25, October 8). Hoy's goal is to unite local and national companies with Chicago's employed and unemployed workforce.

that recognizing Daley College as serving over 63% Latino students, the Division of Student Services partnered with Hoy Newspaper as a marketing and recruitment outreach initiative to strengthen ties within the primary demographic base that we serve, and to offer quality programs and job placement assistance to our community. The College promoted its programs as participants partook in the job fair.
