Partnership Business Works Event

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS: that on Wednesday, April 9, 2008 Wright College hosted the first event in a series of events developed in a partnership with the City of Chicago's Department of Business Affairs. Business Works: A Seminar to Grow Business in Every Community attracted 300 participants of current community business owners, potential entrepreneurs, and Wright College business students.

that activities were designed to provide information on doing business within and with the City of Chicago. Representatives from City Departments provided information about business regulations and business services offered by the City of Chicago. Ms. Mary Lou Eisenhower, the Acting Director of the Chicago Department of Business Affairs and Licensing served as the event Master of Ceremonies.

that the event featured keynote speaker Barry Moltz, a noted Entrepreneur and Author, who spoke on his newest book Bounce! The Path to True Business Confidence. Breakout sessions on Contracting with the City of Chicago, Website Considerations for Business Owners, and Marketing Principles were also featured as part of the program.

Respectfully Submitted,
