WRIGHT STUDENTS PRESENT
AT ANNUAL MEETING
OF THE
ECOLOGICAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS

that Wright students, Nick Mensah and Caitlin Lottie presented their research on reconstructing a natural prairie field at poster session at the annual meeting of the Ecological Society of America held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin in August 2008. Their project involved the reconstruction of a prairie plot on property that is located behind Wright College.

that the presentation titled "Prairie Reconstruction and soil nutrient analysis" was based on their work as students in the CCC Undergraduate Research Program. The research was conducted under the direction of Professors Joseph Oyugi and Helen Rarick of the Wright College Biology Department.

that Mr. Mensah and Ms. Lottie have successfully transferred to Loyola University of Chicago and are currently enrolled as Biology Majors.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
