THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that two groups of Truman College students are collecting canned and other non-perishable food to benefit the community and fellow students; and

that students in the college's Student Success Seminar courses have founded a college food pantry that will primarily benefit fellow Truman students with some of the food collected going to the community over the holidays; and that the drive organized by high school students in Truman Middle College is one of a number of projects undertaken in advance of a spring middle college conference in New Orleans on public service.

Respectfully submitted,
