that LERN praised Ms. Wessels in particular for posting students' work so future students could "see what others have done and imagine themselves doing the same work after taking the class;" and that LERN is the leading international association in lifelong learning with more than 4,000 members in 16 countries.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
