REPORTS

that in February 2009, Malcolm X College sent three faculty members – Professors Stephanie Owen (Library), Nneka Anigbogu (Mathematics), and Daniel Mulvihill (Library), to the National Association for Developmental Education (NADE) Annual Conference. In June and July 2009, Malcolm X College will send one faculty member, Professor Matthew Pavesich (English), to NADE’s Kellogg Institute. The activities of these four faculty members will inform Malcolm X College’s work to improve the effectiveness of developmental instruction for students enrolled in pre-credit and developmental English, Mathematics, and Reading courses.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
