FIRST TRUMAN SCHOLARS MAKE THEIR PRESENTATIONS TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that a group of Truman students made presentations of their work at the first Truman Scholar's Symposium May 7; and that the presentations were based in various disciplines, including music and English; and that students also made presentations on mathematics and one discussed the experiences of Cambodian refugees; and that the Truman Scholars program, culminating with the symposium, is a new initiative at Truman created to highlight student achievement.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
