County of Cook and State of Illinois

STUDENT JOURNALISTS WIN STATE AWARDS
TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that student journalists and the Uptown Exchange student newspaper won awards at the Spring 2009 Illinois Community College Journalism Association (ICCJA) conference recently; and that staff writer Nandika Doobay won second place for best feature article, design manager Phil Romanello won second place for overall layout and design, and former staff writer and current Truman college advisor Maasai Amewa won first place for best article on the arts; and that last year, Truman's first competing in the ICCJA, the college newspaper won first place for best news story.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
Chancellor
