HIP HOP IMAGEMAKER ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION AT OLIVE-HARVEY COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that on Wednesday, August 19, Olive-Harvey College partnered with MG Media to present Hip Hop IMAGEMAKER, a roundtable discussion with leading figures in the local and national music industry. The audience of approximately fifty included CCC students, aspiring musicians and managers, entertainment industry veterans and those interested in learning more information about how to become a success in the music industry.

that the event panel featured George Daniels, local music industry pioneer and owner of George's Music Room, Shorty Capone, who founded local hip hop artists Crucial Conflict and Lupe Fiasco, and Sean Dale, local entertainment personality. The panel was hosted by radio personality Bionce' Foxx. The event concluded with a question and answer session from the audience. Attendees received impactful insight into the history of the Chicago music industry, a chronicle of the rise to success for each panelist as well as tips on how to be successful in the entertainment industry.

Respectfully submitted,

Deidra J. Lewis
Interim Chancellor
