TRUMAN COLLEGE

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS that Betsy Kittle, who teaches pre-credit English, has written a book called Word Ladders, published by the Canadian firm Soleil; and that the book is 70 pages of exercises designed to strengthen vocabulary skills, particularly for students in ESL classes; and that each "ladder" ties together two words and by starting at the top with the first word and changing one letter per step, you work your way down to the second word, helped along the way with clues.

Respectfully submitted,

Wayne D. Watson
