REPORTS

that on December 5, 2008, Malcolm X College hosted thirty-eight (38) health science faculty and administrators from the Chicago Public Schools (CPS) and Malcolm X College (MXC). The collaboration meeting established the platform to strengthen recruitment activities and dual enrollment, create a universal understanding of programs of study, identify opportunities for articulation, and establish an awareness of special initiatives offered by CPS and the City Colleges of Chicago (CCC). College faculty and high school instructors presented workshops and discussed methods and strategies to sustain the collaborative partnership.
