Adopt-A- Child Holiday Celebration
Malcolm X College

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS

that on December 19, 2008, the Malcolm X College Child Development Center held its annual Adopt a Child Holiday Celebration, in collaboration with all college departments and families of children attending the center. Staff sponsored a child from the Center and purchased holiday gifts for them. The event included children singing Christmas carols in different languages. The program culminated with the opening of gifts by the children and their parents. It was an especially memorable occasion because the Center had a family that recently came from India. They had no warm clothes for the children and no money to purchase them. Administration, faculty and departments rallied together and as a result the children received several necessary items for the winter season. Many of the families indicated that without this opportunity, their child would not have received anything for the Holidays.

Respectfully submitted,
