POLITICAL SCIENCE STUDENTS SPARK CIVIC ENGAGEMENT
Malcolm X College

THE CHANCELLOR

REPORTS

On September 21, 22, and 23, 2010, Professor Claire Stuart-Quintanilla's Political Science 201 students, conducted a Voter Registration Drive during New Student Week; and that the class goal was to reach out to 1000 college peers and encourage them to engage in civic life by becoming registered voters; and that to support the class voter registration efforts, Malcolm X College ran marketing promotions on the LCD screens throughout the campus. Inspired by the civic engagement movement on campus, other faculty members invited Illinois PIRG, a student civic action group, to speak during College Success classes about the importance of participation in the electoral process.

Respectfully submitted,

Cheryl L. Hyman
