Wright College

THE CHANCELLOR

that on Tuesday, September 28, 2010, Secretary of State Jesse White addressed Wright College students and the community with a presentation "Save a Life: Students for Organ Donation." Secretary White shared his personal experiences and talked of the reasons why Hispanics and other minorities hesitate to sign up for organ transplant donation and suggested ways to educate and persuade citizens to sign up for organ donation; and that speakers from Gift of Hope, Illinois Eye Bank, Biological Resource Center of Illinois, a Wright College employee whose son was a donor after a drive-by shooting, and two organ recipients also spoke to a packed audience in the theater; and that this event was a part of Hispanic Heritage Month activities.

Respectfully submitted,

Cheryl L. Hyman
Chancellor
