Every student will be able to maximize their learning inside and outside the classroom, navigate our institution with ease, make significant progress towards their goals, and feel welcome and supported by all City Colleges employees.

Strategic Objective Highlights:

- Significantly improve college-level math and English pass rates in the first year.
- Design and implement a holistic student success strategy and culture across the district.

Early student momentum is addressed by the strategic objective of significantly improving college-level math and English pass rates in the first year.

CCC data supports national research that shows that students who take and pass college-level English and math in their first year have a much likelier chance of persisting and completing. This positive effect holds true at all levels of placement.

CCC assembled the Developmental Education Planning Committee in 2019 and 2020 to identify changes and improvements in the areas of placement and advising; innovative delivery; student supports, and continuous improvement and governance to promote early student momentum. These actions are showing early positive results on rates of students taking and passing college-level English and math in their first year.

Pass rates in English in the first year have improved in the last two fiscal years.

English
Fiscal Year	First-year pass rate	CCC Target
2018	43%	--
2019	41%	--
2020	48%	44%
2021	50%	44%
2022		46%

At this same point in time last year, the pass rate was three percentage points higher than this year.

Pass rates in math in the first year improved significantly in FY 21.

Math
Fiscal Year	First-year pass rate	CCC Target
2018	27%	--
2019	26%	--
2020	28%	29%
2021	38%	31%
2022		33%

At this same point in time last year, the pass rate was three percentage points higher than this year.

Continuous improvement in early momentum will come from sustained attention to placement, student supports, and innovative delivery.

1. Placement innovations will go into effect next month that include:
  - Use of HS GPA in a multiple measures approach to boosting placement.
  - Use of successful completion of a dev ed class at an accredited college or university for placement into college-level coursework.
2. Transitional instruction at CPS continues to expand in partnership with CCC. Students who succeed in a transitional English or math class their senior year in high school can enter CCC ready to enroll in college-level coursework.
  - Transitional math – taught in 70 high schools with 3,381 students enrolled. 92.5% are on track for portability.
  - Transitional English – taught in 26 schools with 1,936 students enrolled. 89% are on track for portability.
3. Grant funding from Bridges to Brighter Futures is supporting the development of student support and innovative delivery in math.
4. CCC is committing to no-cost developmental education by paying for all developmental-level courses that students need to take, up to and including co-requisites.
